Meeting of Nations in Geneva Called For Next February

Canadian Press
Paris, Sept. 3.—Reports published in the United States that France has asked for a postponement of the Disarmament Conference in Geneva, called for next February, were described as absurd by the Foreign Office to-day.

Two more traffic accidents yesterday evening swelled the total to three dead and four injured in Victoria this week as the result of collisions in which automobiles, cycles and motor cycles have figured. As the result of a collision at Cook and Yates street about 7.30 yesterday Miss Violet Elderton, a well-known Victoria nurse, died two hours later in the Jubilee Hospital from injuries sustained when she was knocked off her bicycle.

The other accident yesterday evening was near Lake Hill School. Robin James, of Saanich Road, a little girl of seven years ran from the gate of a house as an automobile driven by D. Pomeroy, 901 Fairfield Road, was passing, and missed by the fraction of a second being run over. She was struck by the rear fender of the car, and injured about the head and sustained cuts and bruises.

GERMAN AND AUSTRIAN PLAN IS RENOUNCED

Geneva, Sept. 3.—Germany and Austria, acting through their foreign ministers at the Pan-European Commission's session here today, renounced the customs union they proposed several months ago. Dr. Johann Schober, attending for Austria, said his government had arranged with Germany to pursue the matter no further, and Dr. Julius Curtius of Germany concurred. They thus anticipated the World Court's verdict, which according to general belief, will declare the proposed link illegal. In this manner was eliminated a scheme which has acutely troubled the European political scene for the last five months. The declaration of renunciation, it is believed, will quiet the fears and satisfy the demands of France, chief opponent of the plan.

Prison and Lashes Ordered For Winnipeg BanditsManitoba Capital City Magistrate Moves To End Armed Robberies

Sentences One New York Man to Fifteen Years and Ten Lashes for Robbing Bank, and His Companion to Twelve Years and Ten Lashes

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Sept. 3.—Long penitentiary terms and lashes were imposed to-day on Mainline Conliser, thirty-one, and Harry Dundas, twenty-two, tall New York bandits, who robbed a Winnipeg branch bank of $11,000 a week ago. Conliser was sentenced to fifteen years and ten lashes, and Dundas to twelve years and ten lashes.

The "laughing bandits" were arrested by police at an isolated shack fourteen miles north of Winnipeg two days after they had entered a west end branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, herded five persons into the vault and vanished with their loot. Friends of children of the district, the six-foot four bandits were recognized by police detectives at a garden party the evening after the hold-up.

MAGISTRATE'S ATTITUDE
The heavy sentences marked the second time this week Magistrate R. M. Noble had taken a judicial step to crush the menace of gangsters and gun-play. On Monday he imposed sentences of twelve and ten years with ten lashes on William Massey, thirty-one, and Delbert Heise, twenty-three, for two downtown chain store hold-ups.

WHOLE CHILEAN NAVY REVOLTS

Up to early this morning the mutineers refused to listen to Rear-Admiral Schroeder, who was sent by air to listen to their grievances over proposed cuts in salaries. Finally he was permitted to go aboard the flagship La Torres and he told the leaders the cabinet had resigned and a new one was being formed in its place.

His report was said to have pleased the insurgents, who had demanded among other things that Finance Minister Bianchi resign. Their commanders be changed and better treatment generally be given. On coming ashore, Schroeder said he was pleased with the promises he had made and thought an early settlement was possible. The crews were given until 4 o'clock to make up their minds whether to surrender.

CITIES UNDER WATER
Portions of Hingwa were under twenty feet of water, while the district office, in the highest part of the city, were submerged three feet. The nearby cities of Taichow and Tungwai were similarly afflicted as the flood waters surged eastward.

Calamity rode into the Nanking district on the rising waters of the Yangtze and threatened to tighten its grip still further there. Three important dikes broke, inundating the suburbs outside the Nanking wall and driving crowds of refugees into the city. More than 1,000 refugees were camped on Nanking's famous walls.

The river rose eight inches and urgent measures were taken to strengthen the dikes.

At Wuhu, fifty miles up the river, the water was rising again in one of the most sorely stricken cities. The official Kuomintang news agency said the whole city was submerged. All dwellers in one-story houses were forced to perch on their roofs.

TERMINAL CITY PLANS FOR ITS JOBLESS SLATED

Vancouver to Give Employment to 2,000 Men, Leaving Others to Governments

B.C. Cabinet Considering Proposal; Ottawa Statement Is Awaited

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Sept. 3.—Vancouver authorities are prepared to provide employment for 2,000 men this winter if the provincial and federal governments will supply work for the remainder of the city's jobless, who to-day have reached a total of 14,141 listed at the relief office and 2,541 at the government employment bureau.

This, in brief, is the proposal tendered to the provincial government by Alderman W. C. Atherton, city relief committee chairman, who on Tuesday and Wednesday was in conference with members of the government in Victoria. His suggestion was given approval by the city council at a recent secret meeting. It is stated.

Other 1,000 will be taken from the relief office and 2,541 at the government employment bureau. This, in brief, is the proposal tendered to the provincial government by Alderman W. C. Atherton, city relief committee chairman, who on Tuesday and Wednesday was in conference with members of the government in Victoria. His suggestion was given approval by the city council at a recent secret meeting. It is stated.

Of the 2,000 the city is willing to assist, 1,000 are men of the by-law construction gang, now employed, but who will be laid off as work is completed between the end of October and the end of the year. The other 1,000 will be taken from the relief office and 2,541 at the government employment bureau. This, in brief, is the proposal tendered to the provincial government by Alderman W. C. Atherton, city relief committee chairman, who on Tuesday and Wednesday was in conference with members of the government in Victoria. His suggestion was given approval by the city council at a recent secret meeting. It is stated.

On that basis the city would be responsible for an estimated portion of the cost of providing work for 6,777 married men on to-day's registration basis. The portion the city would be asked to bear will not be known until the federal government announces its policy, probably after a cabinet meeting within the next forty-eight hours. Under the city's scheme, however, it would assume complete responsibility for 1,000 of the 6,800 and give work to 1,000 by-law workers. At the same time it would continue to employ 1,000 in general maintenance men, roughly 1,000.

CREDIT SCHEME
Acting Mayor John Bennett, who also visited Victoria, stated his plan for a credit scheme to help the relief work had already been considered between provincial and federal authorities, but the latter were not inclined to accept it. He said, however, that it would be given consideration.

Civil protests against men in British Columbia less than a year being expelled from Canada were held in Vancouver yesterday. The protesters were led by Hon. W. A. McKenzie, Labor Minister, with J. H. McVety, employment bureau head.

SEVEN TO
It was reported to-day that thirty-one married men, in British Columbia less than a year, had been sent to the Loughheed work. Government officials had learned the extent of the first consignment, and would be sent forward later.

Registration is continuing at the government bureau of men in the province more than a year. Lately, those in British Columbia less than a year have been closed.

MANY CHINESE ARE BEING DRIVEN FROM MEXICO
Nanking, China, Sept. 3.—C. T. Wang, Foreign Minister of the Nationalist Government, to-day said relations between China and Mexico had been strained "to the breaking point" since negotiations with Mexico City respecting the anti-Chinese movement in the states of Sonora and Sinaloa had proved abortive.

Requests of obtaining a satisfactory settlement, said Wang, "China requested the United States Government, which accepted to arbitrate the present dispute."

"The United States Government further consented to grant temporary residence in United States territory to Chinese nationals compelled to evacuate Sonora and Sinaloa in order to avoid untoward incidents."

CONSUL OPTIMISTIC
Mexico City, Sept. 3.—The Chinese consul at Hermosillo, capital of the state of Sonora, informed Chinese Minister Sam Young here by telephone he was optimistic in regard to a settlement of the question of guarantees for Chinese nationals in Sonora.

Young also received a report from Cananea, Sonora, saying Chinese there had been ordered to leave by to-morrow, and other reports indicated the evacuation of Chinese from Sonora and Sinaloa was continuing.

CALLS FOR PROTECTION
It was stated in semi-official quarters that President Ortiz Rubio had wired instructions to the governors of Sonora, Sinaloa and other states where the anti-Chinese campaign is being waged to protect all Chinese in their territories against violence as a possible outbreak of the campaign. He also mentioned the movement to oblige Chinese and other foreigners to comply with the new labor laws, however.

Governor Miguel de Sinaloa on receipt of the president's message, warned the anti-Chinese committees throughout the state to avoid violence.

1,000 AT MAZATELAN
Sam Young said approximately 1,000 Chinese refugees were congregated at Mazatlan and that they had appealed to him to raise money for their passage back to China.

BRITISH LOAN IN FRANCE SUCCESS

Paris, Sept. 3.—The newspaper Extremite-to-day announced an issue of 500,000 francs (about $100,000,000) in British treasury bonds in Paris, as part of France's contribution to Franco-United States support of the British pound sterling, has almost entirely covered within forty-eight hours.

RUNAWAY BLIMP SAVED FROM SEA

Speedy Action By North Beach, N.Y., Ground Crew Rescues Three Men

New York, Sept. 3.—A dirigible that gave the three men aboard it a runaway experience, was safe at moorings to-day, one of its motors being repaired. Buffeted by wind of a rising electrical storm, it was rescued yesterday by a ground crew at the North Beach airport, where it was drifting helplessly toward the ocean. Its fuel tanks were almost empty.

Prevented by the storm and motor failure from mooring at the Teterboro airport, the dirigible was again to land in safety as the craft was swept over the Newark airport. In the dusk, Pilot Heine Miller, on detached duty from Langley Field, Va., managed to steer his craft to the North Beach airport, the wind and his remaining engine helping.

SPEEDY ACTION
There Capt. Harry Rogers, airport manager, heard the cries for aid, assembling a ground crew of twenty-five men and available sandbags, he rushed them to the field, where they managed to catch lines lowered from the blimp within the gathering dusk was sweeping out toward the sea.

Soon after the men had caught the dirigible, the wind and storm struck with full force. The gas bag, light and of large surface, caught the gusts and swayed the ground crew around the field. Aided by thirty men who saw their plight, they finally got the craft under control.

In addition to Lieut. Miller, those known were Major W. R. Wade, pilot, fifteen years in the service, and lighter-than-air service, and W. T. Bailey, a passenger, of White Plains, N.Y. None was injured.

DATE SET FOR $252,000 SUIT

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Sept. 3.—On the application of G. L. Fraser, Jr., Justice Fisher in the B.C. Supreme Court to-day ordered a $252,000 claim by the bankrupt estate of Theo. Frontier and Company Limited, Kamloops, B.C., against I. W. C. Solloway and Harvey Mills and their stock brokerage firms might be proceeded with September 8.

The action had been stayed since January 22 by order of Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald, pending termination of criminal prosecution against Solloway and Mills.

Solloway, Mills & Company Limited pleaded guilty on July 7 in County Court to a bucking charge and was fined $100,000 by Judge Mills.

CITY PLACING PLANS BEFORE GOVERNMENT

EAGER FOR START
As the matter stands to-day the city is eager to get its relief programme started, but it wants the provincial government to pay part of the cost, whereas the provincial government is not prepared to inform the city just what it will contribute until it learns the extent of the anti-Chinese movement.

This is a situation that applies to every municipality seeking government assistance in the attempt to solve the unemployed problem.

The aldermen met in the mayor's office this morning quite amiably, but at the conclusion of an hour's conference it was admitted that the clarity of the situation was unchanged so far as the financing of the proposed work is concerned.

The city is unable to shoulder the cost, and unless it gets more than 50 per cent of the total from the government, it will be a hard job to finance the proposals out of general funds.

Outside of the projects already outlined, it was learned to-day that the city had earmarked the sum of $27,000 for relief beautification purposes.

This is merely a gesture, the city is in favor of the beautification programme under consideration to the extent of contributing to its cost.

Six hundred residents of the city are registered as without employment and it is proposed to put these to work at a daily wage of about $3 for four days a week.

STREET SUGGESTIONS
When the streets programme came before the meeting this morning it was suggested that improvements be carried out in various sections of the city, particularly in Victoria West and the Fairfield district.

The suggestion was further made that Yates Street, between Douglas and Blanshard; View Street, between Government and Douglas, and Broad Street, north of Yates Street, which are paved with wooden blocks be treated with a surfacing of tar and sand. It was estimated that each section could be finished with this type of surfacing at a cost of approximately $1,000. Similar treatment of wooden paving had been credited to last three years, it was stated.

The laying of a feeder main through the city from the Sooke main at Hillside and Gorge Road, via Blanshard and Pandora, to link up with the smaller mains of the Fairfield district, would add that area, it was said, and give a greater volume of water for the hospitals. The Royal Jubilee, it was explained, would benefit by greater water pressure.

Several of the members of the council were of the opinion that the Dominion and provincial governments should be asked to foot the entire cost of the proposed work.

The plans outlined at this morning's meeting will come before the regular City Council meeting next week, and further special conferences may be called in the interim.

Transportation Inquiry Is To Be Held In Canada

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—Investigation of the whole transportation problem of Canada by a government commission is now assured. This was recommended to the House of Commons yesterday by Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, two and one half months ago.

It was understood in government circles to-day more thought and study would be given to the problem by the cabinet, probably ending in the formation of a commission. This would be a royal commission or a commission of railway and transportation experts had not been decided.

Duplication of services, the effect of bus and truck competition, non-paying passengers lines and possibly the broad principles of freight rates would be among the questions canvassed, it was understood. With such a programme, it would take about six months to make a thorough inquiry.

RECORD CROWD VIEWS MILLION DOLLAR STOCK PARADE AT EXHIBITION
Leading the best breeds of cattle was the Prince of Wales's prize shorthorn "March Past," a prize of $1,000. A fine selection of shorthorn stock from the same place followed. The other best breeds, Herefords and Jerseys, preceded cattle of essentially dairy stock.

Holsteins led the dairy cattle, followed by the Ayrshires, Jerseys and Red Polls. The value of all stock in the "march past" was estimated by officials at $10,000.

As the latter part of the parade was entering the field, the four teams of field, the delight of the crowd with an exhibition of cantering and turning. Only very skillful driving kept these teams in control.

HORSE SHOW GOOD
The pageant depicting "Canada Yesterday and To-day," spectacular jumping by Mrs. D. B. Carley on her chestnut gelding, Beggar Boy, and her driving of six horses, tended to draw rounds of applause from the audience of approximately 1,500, which attended the Horse Show in the evening.

Mrs. Carley secured two firsts and two thirds in the four contests she entered and showed splendid control of her mount throughout. Her greatest success was scored in the Hon. S. L. Howe $500 jumper sweepstakes, the outstanding event of the evening. In this class the competitors were forced to put their horses over three jumps, two posts and a rail, four feet, and triple bar. Performance was the only thing that was taken into consideration by the judge. Competition was exceptionally keen, and the entries were forced to give one of the best exhibitions ever seen.

The speed at which the six-horse teams were driven and the marvelous manner in which the drivers handled their animals merited the high praise given them.

PAGEANT SPECTACULAR
The romance and glamor of early Canadian history was caught in the pageant presented under the auspices of the Rotary Club and directed by L. Campbell Banta, a guest of the evening.

Results of the riding events, judged by Col. J. J. Frye of Stevenson, B.C., follow:

MIDWAY BUSY
The Midway came into its own for the first time yesterday afternoon and evening, when the large crowd kept the "rides," sideshows and eating stalls busy. With a special half-holiday declared in the schools, the young boys and girls swarmed all over the place in the afternoon and had plenty of fun staring one another to brave the whirling and giddy rides of the wheel, the whip and the Ferris wheel.

The Midway certainly is the place for the young. There is something about it that is out of the ordinary, and it is the Midway that draws them even though their teachers tell them not to miss seeing the agricultural and industrial activities of Victoria.

A typical scene was observed yesterday. A mother had a number of growing children who were pressing her to allow them to see Victoria from the top of the Ferris wheel. The mother was anxious, the wheel operator reassuring and an infant in arms crying, all at once, the child cried all the more as its elder brothers and sisters were finally permitted to take seats on the wheel. However, the child boarded one of the "house" sea-planes and coo-cooed with pleasure for quite a while.

"HOUSE-HOUSE"
"House-house" is a typical holiday amusement. "Play House, you'll like it, come right in," the operators shout, and people gather round to take their chance with the ball, the board and the pieces of corn.

Of course, the "personality" of the hot-dog is something one cannot miss on the Midway. The hot-dog really has quite a personality. It can be noticed, or smelt, a good way off. It is so attractive that people eat it. What would a day at the fair be for many children, if they had not eaten a hot-dog? This, again, against the advice of elders who know better.

One woman was heard to remark on the Midway yesterday evening, when everyone was bustling happily around, "This fair doesn't make me believe there is a depression." The Premier said the same thing on the opening day.

Y.M.C.A. ACTIVE
Just off the Midway is a modest tent with a quiet, modest man in front of it. He is Vivian Sheemaker, and the tent belongs to the Y.M.C.A. "Shoey" confided that his tent had not let him down, though it had lost somewhat the first two days of the fair. To-day, he asserted yesterday evening, "we have been of some use. You'd be surprised the questions I've been asked."

The tent is an information and lost property establishment, and people can check their parcels there as well. One baby was returned to its mother, after only a single question had been asked. The question was: "Have you seen a kid with a checkered hat that answers to the name of Raymond?" "Shoey" had not got a hat named Raymond, but he had the kid, and two people felt happier.

One "clammy Jane" spoke as follows during the monster stock parade in the afternoon: "Supposing the grass in that oval there was to catch alight. There would be over 500 head of cattle and horses stampeding, and 5,000 human beings adding to the confusion."

A small fire did start in the Main Building yesterday evening, but was quickly extinguished. A fire engine wended its way through the crowds to get to the scene, but everything was safe when it arrived.

Trades Congress Next Week Will Declare Views on Political Financial Problem

By Thomas T. Champion, Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, Sept. 3.—The general council of the British Trades Union Congress has gone from London to Bristol preparatory to the opening there next week of what will be perhaps the most momentous annual convention ever known to that assembly, which represents more than 3,500,000 workers.

The draft of a supplementary report in which the political views of the last two weeks are reviewed has been prepared for consideration by the general council prior to its presentation to the Congress.

TARIFF DISCUSSION
 Alternatives to the government's economy proposals already suggested by the general council are the suspension of the sinking fund, the taxation of fixed interest bearing securities and the establishment of a revenue tariff in preference to wage cuts and reductions in the expenditures for social services.

It is believed the majority of the general council favors a revenue tariff, but whether the council will recommend the Congress commit itself to that principle without qualification is doubtful. So far the trade union movement has not committed itself definitely to tariffs.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, recently elected leader of the Parliamentary Labor Party, will attend the congress to express his views on the tariff and other subjects. Many delegates doubtless will have authority for their constituents to vote as they think fit after hearing the report of the general council and speeches by Mr. Henderson and other leaders.

MESSAGE FROM CURRIE READ TO LEGION DELEGATES

Niagara Falls, Ont., Sept. 3.—Expressing his conviction that those of the war veteran body who have lost their health and strength in the service of their country must be adequately cared for, Sir Arthur Currie, who commanded the Canadian Army in the Great War, sent his annual message to the Dominion Convention of the Canadian Legion here yesterday.

Sir Arthur's message, read by Brig.-Gen. Alex. Ross, Dominion vice president, was largely one of reminiscence, recalling the achievements of the Canadian Army at the front and calling upon its members to continue their work of service for their country.

Spoke of the responsibilities of the ex-service men of Canada, who are in health and strength, and of the comrades who were broken on the wheel of war.

"The vast majority of our comrades are still in the prime of their days and their strength," the message read. "We must see to it that those of our number who are not in their strength because of their service are cared for with adequate provision."

In a covering letter accompanying his message, Sir Arthur made a brief reference to the pension legislation of Canada and its administration. "The act seems all right, but some one is putting sand in the machinery. I promise my comrades not to cease working for proper administration of pension."

HIGHER STANDARD FOR ONTARIO WINE
 Ottawa, Sept. 3.—Regulations in the proposals to bring Canadian wine up to a standard of quality to meet world-wide competition were discussed here this week between representatives of Ontario wine producers and Dominion government officials.

Toward the end of improving the quality of Canadian wine so it may meet Australian and European competition, the government recently provided for tax free fruit spirits to be used in this fall's vintage replacing sugar.

One regulation which will probably be put into effect is that only 250 gallons of wine may be produced from a ton of grapes in place of the formerly produced quantity running from 300 to 400 gallons. A second regulation will likely provide that wine fortified by fruit spirits shall be aged for two years before being offered for sale.

Three Poison Liquor Deaths in California

Los Angeles, Sept. 3.—With three men dead and one dying as the result of drinking what police said was poison alcohol, local authorities to-day began an investigation to learn the source of the liquor which they believe was hastily manufactured for the Fiesta scheduled to open in Los Angeles to-morrow.

Those who lost their lives were: William W. Weller, a cook; Charles Clark, mechanic, and Ray Peters, also a mechanic. Alfred W. Maltby is in a hospital.

Examination of contents of the bottles from which the men drank led police to believe the liquor had been manufactured from rubbing alcohol.

NEW MOVE IN EUROPE AGAINST TRADE BARRIERS

Committee Recommendations Come Before Pan-European Commission at Geneva

Geneva, Sept. 3.—A series of guide posts designed to point Europe's way out of the wilderness of economic adversity passed before the eyes of the Pan-European Commission in plenary session here to-day.

The co-ordinating committee of the commission in formulating its recommendations admitted no single remedy to restore prosperity could be advanced and that the psychological depression was the greatest hazard to be surmounted.

Certain major guiding principles could be laid down, its report said, and the first of these is that the psychological factor dominates the economic crisis affecting most nations to-day, and it is for the politicians above all to influence men's minds by spreading throughout the world a general feeling of confidence.

"It would seem to be necessary to discard every preconceived opinion, to be guided by experience and to seek remedies wherever there seems to be a chance of finding them."

END OF TRADE BARRIERS
 The committee advocated the following definite steps:

Development of Europe as a single market for the world's products and the elimination of all trade barriers and customs union.

Active encouragement by the League of Nations for the issuance of state loans of an international character.

Co-operation among the League's finance committee, the World Bank and national treasury officials in aiding needy nations.

Investigation by the Pan-European Commission of the creation of an international bank to grant long term credits.

Encouragement by the commission of commercial treaties embodying preferential tariff rates without injury to other nations.

Creation of an international placement bureau to reduce unemployment and the calling of a technical labor conference.

MOSCOW PAPER SCORES NEW U.S. TRADE RULES
 Moscow, Sept. 3.—Citing the activities of anti-Soviet leaders, particularly those in the United States, the Pravda yesterday editorially said: "They forget that any struggle against trade with Soviet Russia deals a blow to their own pockets."

The Communist Party organ singled out a new United States customs regulation, effective the first of next year, dealing with importation of products of forced labor, as directed against Soviet Russia.

"The United States Government," it said, "continually forms a barrier to the development of Soviet trade."

Noting a decided tendency toward strengthening trade relations with Soviet Russia in other parts of the world, the editorial said Soviet imports were inextricably related to exports and the quantity of one depended on the quantity of the other.

"Those opposed to trade with Soviet Russia are thick-witted to think Soviet imports from the United States will be increased if its exports decrease," the newspaper said.

NOT FRIGHTENED

"These attacks lead to intervention against the Soviet Union, but the angry threats of American imperialism cannot scare the working masses of the Soviet Union. The Soviet Union is sufficiently strong to defend its economic position in the international arena."

SUCCESS IN USE OF HORMONES IS DESCRIBED

U.S. Chemical Society Is Told of Girl Saved From Being Dwarf

By Howard W. Blakeslee, Associated Press Science Editor

Buffalo, N.Y., Sept. 3.—Records of a girl saved from dwarfism, of insane persons cured by hormones and the discovery that sugar can be fed to diabetics were reported to an endocrine symposium of the American Chemical Society here to-day.

Endocrines are the ductless glands whose secretions, the hormones, are held by some scientists to account for the differences between races. They govern to quite an extent height, slenderness or breadth, length of arms and legs, shape of face, quality of voice, distribution of hair or of fat on the body, possibly skin pigment, masculine characteristics in women such as deep voice, beard and masculine features, and even the emotions.

Chemists have been isolating hormones for several years. Their application to human health has been difficult, but some of the leaders of the medical profession reported to-day on progress.

GROWTH DESCRIBED
 A girl who stopped growing at six was described by William Englebach, M.D. of New York City. A growth hormone, extracted from the pituitary glands of animals, was given to make up for a deficiency in the secretion from the girl's own pituitary gland.

In less than two years she grew nearly three inches. The circumference of her head increased six inches. Her weight rose 7 1/2 pounds.

Dr. Englebach said the general medical profession could not obtain growth hormones because of difficulties about purifying them. He predicted these hormones will be available soon, and with them another from the same gland that will control sex development.

EARLY VOTE AT BRITISH SESSION

London, Sept. 3.—With the House of Commons and House of Lords gathering September 8 for the purpose of discussing the new National Government's economy measures, this will be the likely programme:

September 8.—House of Commons assembly, at which a motion will be submitted that the House go into committee of ways and means, preliminary to discussion of taxation, to be followed by a vote of confidence. Premier MacDonald, Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin and Sir Herbert Samuel will speak in support of the government and Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson for the opposition. The division will be taken the same evening.

September 10.—Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer, will make his emergency budget statement. September 11.—The first bill, dealing with taxes, will be introduced. A day and a half is allotted for this. Afterward the second government bill, dealing with economy in expenditures, will be considered for the same length of time.

TWO MEN KILLED IN GUN FIGHT

Port Smith, Ark., Sept. 3.—Two men were killed and three wounded late yesterday evening in a highway gun fight that occurred when officers hunting a group of filling station bandits tried to halt an approaching automobile.

Those killed were Police Captain W. A. Bourland and a suspected robber identified as Orl Crow of Tulsa and Barneville, Okla. His companions, who gave their names as Everett and Ted Wackerly, were in a hospital under guard to-day in a critical condition from their wounds.

Patrolman Ralph Howard, who was with Capt. Bourland, also was wounded. Officers said Crow and the Wackerlys had been identified to-day by J. E. Cantwell of Spiro, Ark., as the three men who robbed his filling station.

GANDHI IS ADEN VISITOR

Aden, Arabia, Sept. 3.—Mahatma Gandhi and his party arrived here to-day and made a brief visit ashore before resuming their voyage to London for the Second India Round-Table Conference.

Local Indian merchants presented Gandhi with a purse containing about $1,625. Responding both in Gujarati and English, he said he had expected much more from his Aden adherents, but passed on to lay emphasis on the Hindu-Muslim communal problem in India.

Asked what his programme at the conference would be, Gandhi replied: "I shall strive for a constitution that will release India from all thralldom and patronage."

EXECUTION AT WINNIPEG TO-DAY

Winnipeg, Sept. 3.—At the Headingley Jail this morning John Streib, forty-five-year-old, was hanged for having murdered the three children of Mrs. Lillian Walters, last May, after the woman for a period had given him free room and board.

It was the first indoor execution in Manitoba's history. Irene Doris and George Walters were the children killed. Streib himself was near death from self-inflicted slashes in the throat, when Mrs. Walters came home from work and found her family wiped out.

No motive for the crime was found, beyond an altercation between Streib and Mrs. Walters, whose work in the kitchen of a department store was the family's sole support. Irene and Doris were attending school, too young to work, and George had just been laid off from his job at an iron works. Mrs. Walters said Streib, who had been idle for months, would have to leave the home, which was burdened with debt.

The morning after the order to leave, Streib, who had persistently asked Mrs. Walters to marry him, committed the triple murder.

"GP" Tires are Custom-Built

Quality—Not Mass Production

It's not how fast we build tires, or how many we can make in a day. It's the extra time we take to build them right, and the extra material we put into them that makes them perfect. That's why "GP" Tires last longer. With us it's quality—not mass production. Every tire is custom-built. And they cost no more.

THREE SIGNIFICANT RECORDS

ATTENDANCE AT THE EXHIBITION
At the Willows yesterday set a new record by a substantial margin. This reflects a healthy appreciation by the citizens of the importance and character of the fair. We shall hope that a part of the explanation of the record crowd was a desire to support the buy-home-products campaign, first of all by learning what is produced locally.

It is a matter for special gratification at this time, however, that not only is Victoria celebrating a record show in point of entries and attendance; but the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto and the Canadian Pacific Exhibition at Vancouver likewise have established new records this year. This is an encouraging sign; indicating that fundamentally conditions in Canada are sound and people are confident about the future.

LAMB WEEK

IT IS A COMMONPLACE THAT BRITISH Columbia imports from outside at least half of its supply of meat—beef and veal, mutton and lamb, pork and canned meats. To draw attention to this fact, or at least as far as it concerns lamb, the provincial government has set aside the week of September 7 to September 14 as "Lamb Week." This is a call to the housewives of this province to demand British Columbia lamb, not only during this week, of course, but always.

Those who look after the household larder will be glad to do their part. It may be taken for granted there will be sufficient British Columbia lamb on sale next week throughout the province to satisfy the requirements of all comers. But more than a "Lamb Week" will be needed to insure continuous supplies of the home product the whole year round. There should be no question about the quality, and the price at present is as low as it has been for many years. It will have to be followed, however, by some policy calculated to increase British Columbia's flocks. Premier Tolmie says his ambition is a flock of sheep for every farm in the province. He tells us that wherever there are sheep there are no weeds, and argues that wherever grass is going to waste there sheep should be.

"Lamb Week" should be an effective starter for a campaign to make British Columbia self-sustaining in the matter of mutton and lamb. If it is possible of achievement—and it ought to be—there should be nothing to prevent the development of a similar condition as far as other meats are concerned.

A PROMPT REJOINDER

THE FRENCH FOREIGN OFFICE HAS quickly disposed of the report published in the United States that France has "taken the big step of informally asking the secretariat of the League of Nations to postpone the World Conference" from February next year to an unnamed later date. "A Foreign Office spokesman described the report as absurd, and said 'we are preparing for the conference and we earnestly hope it will succeed.'"

It will not be surprising, of course, if certain armament interests are not grooming their "Shearers" to sow seeds of discord among the delegates who take part in next year's deliberations at Geneva. It will be remembered that it was Dr. Paul Shearer who lobbied for certain United States armament firms at the abortive conference in 1927—and he made no bones about the payment he received for his work. Europe is still on a war basis and the Zaharoffs still have the ears of governments.

THE SPECIALIST

WHAT IS A SPECIALIST? MR. J. W. Maynard, prominent merchant, advertised himself as a "foot specialist and shoe expert" and brought upon his head the wrath of the B.C. Chiropodist Association, which instituted action against him in the Police Court. The Association claimed that Mr. Maynard violated the Act Respecting the Practice of Chiropody when he advertised himself as a "foot specialist and shoe expert," because under that legislation no person not a duly registered chiropodist was permitted to advertise himself as a specialist on pedal extremities.

Mr. Maynard, who pleaded his own case, was able to convince the court that he was quite within his legal rights in advertising himself as a "foot specialist and shoe expert," and that by such notice he was not seeking to convey the impression that he was a chiropodist, as defined by law. The magistrate in acquitting Mr. Maynard made a distinction between a foot specialist alone and a foot specialist in combination with a shoe expert.

The Act Respecting the Practice of Chiropody prohibits anybody from advertising himself as a "chiropodist," a "D.S.C.," "M.C.P.," "pediatrist," "foot specialist," "foot corrector," "pedagogue" or anything else calculated to convey the impression that he is qualified to practice chiropody, unless he is a registered chiropodist. It says nothing about foot specialists in combination with shoe experts, and we fear the omission never will be rectified since the Legislature is most unlikely to amend the law in that particular respect. Hence, in the light of the decision of Magistrate Jay, there is nothing to prevent shoe merchants describing themselves as foot specialists and shoe experts, foot-specialists and slipper experts, and so on. Nor is there anything to prevent the clothing store merchant advertising himself as a foot specialist plus a sock or stocking expert. As chiropodists do not sell shoes or hosiery they are unable to get back at the shoe merchants and clothiers by advertising themselves as shoe or sock specialists and foot experts.

Happily, the public interest is unlikely to suffer from the magistrate's decision. Notwithstanding both chiropodists and shoe experts, society always will contain a large proportion of defective feet, some flat, some crooked and some decorated by corns and bunions. We shall have these deficiencies as long as we have paved sidewalks; people who eat and drink more than their feet can stand; people so vain that they will not tell shoe dealers the truth about their reactions to the shoes tried on them; people who want heels so high that they spring the knees; people with chronic cold feet and people with equally chronic hot feet, due to innumerable causes, many of which can be rectified; people who kick too much; and people who do not kick enough to exercise their feet. For all of these there is not much prospect that our solons across the Bay may see fit to pass.

As for the specialist, whatever may be the technical definition of the term as applied to professional interests, in its broader sense the world is full of him. In fact, everybody is a specialist who devotes himself or herself to any special activity. You can specialize in sport or on the stock exchange. You can specialize in plumbing or house painting. If you are a contractor you can specialize in imposing public buildings, office buildings, mansions, bungalows, woodsheds, chicken houses, or other small but perhaps even more necessary and convenient structural accessories. That the time ever will come when legislation for the protection of all of this specialization will be sought by the specialist concerned is most unlikely. The public is becoming weary of legislation of this character, and it is more likely to diminish than to increase. We all ways shall have specialists whose sanction will be found in the current dictionaries rather than in the revised statutes of the country.

JUBILANT AND BOISTEROUS

WE DO NOT KNOW WHETHER THE Associated Press correspondent aboard the S. Rajputana, the vessel which is taking Mahatma Gandhi to London, is indulging in the gentle art of leg-pulling or not, but when he describes the Indian Nationalist leader as "in a jubilant and almost boisterous mood," we are inclined to wonder. Of course, it is really remarkable how some people get along and do extraordinary things on very little food. But it is hard to picture the Mahatma in a schoolboy frolic on goat's milk and dates.

In any case, it is gratifying to learn that Mr. Gandhi has not set out upon his important mission in an atmosphere of gloomy foreboding. They have enough trouble of their own in Great Britain just now without feeling that more is going to descend upon them, whether it be enshrouded in a loin cloth or in the latest sartorial taste.

On the contrary, it is to be hoped the Nationalist leader will recognize in what has taken place in the affairs of Britain recently a hint that he, too, can assist those in charge of the nation's welfare at this time by moderation in his demands. He will be among friends of India. The leaders of the three parties represented in the National government are looking forward to the day when his country will be on an equal footing with all of the Dominions.

NOT A BAD IDEA

ONE OF THE PROPOSALS HON. R. W. Bryhn, provincial Minister of Public Works, is expected to make at the interprovincial conference at Regina, is the repatriation of a large number of foreigners at present unemployed. It is suggested the federal government could easily arrange for the deportation of all those who desire to go, while if steamship companies would give cheap fares to bring them to Canada, they can allow similar rates for the return journey.

It is problematical how many unemployed foreigners would prefer to exchange life in this country, even though things may not be very bright for them just now, for life and working conditions in the lands from which they came. But it is quite likely a large number could be found in the ranks of the idle who would gladly take advantage of such a plan. In any event, supposing a few thousand cases could be found, this Dominion would be responsible for just that many less than at present.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

WHAT WOULD THEY DO?
The Hamilton Spectator

A communist paper in London asked G.B.S. to contribute an article on Russia, but the author declined, saying he intended to write for the capitalist press and call sinners, not the righteous, to repentance. The refusal has annoyed the communists, but we cannot help wondering how many articles in support of capitalism, paid or unpaid, would get past a communist editor.

CHECKING UP ON CARROLL
The Kansas City Times

The inclusion of a hog and a pig in the first loads to be carried by the new air freight service should answer one of the questions proposed by the Walrus to the Carpenter in Lewis Carroll's "Through the Looking Glass." It is now an established fact that pigs have wings. But we have yet to discover why the sea is boiling hot.

A NEW MENACE
The Saskatoon Star-Phoenix

Anyone who has recently traveled through central and parts of northern Saskatchewan cannot fail to have noticed the presence of what will constitute a new menace to the crops next year, unless warning is made and taken notice of quickly. Motorists find grasshoppers in certain parts of the province to be quite thick and also of the kind that will make havoc of the crops unless overcome in time.

It would appear that the departments of agriculture and the municipalities should be alive to this menace. It is universally hoped that next year will see the beginning of the recovery of agriculture in this province, but that desired happening will not take place unless the utmost vigilance is used to combat the grasshoppers on their first appearance. Anyone who saw, in 1919-20, what devastation the little pests created in parts of southeastern Saskatchewan will not desire to see them have another innings.

A THOUGHT

Seek ye the Lord, all ye meek of the earth, which have wrought his judgment; seek righteousness; seek meekness: it may be ye shall be hid in the day of the Lord's anger.—Zephaniah II 2.

Meekness is the grace which, from beneath God's footstool, lifts up a candid and confiding eye, accepting God's smile of Fatherly affection, and adoring those perfections which it cannot apprehend. — James Hamilton.

Manufacturers' Building Has Many Patrons

Splendid Exhibits By Leading Industrial Firms Attract Much Attention

The Manufacturers' Building at the Willows Exhibition was yesterday extremely popular with patrons of the fair. Every inch of room was occupied by well-decorated stands showing local manufactures and many exhibitors distributed free gifts of samples and souvenirs.

A four-piece orchestra played throughout the afternoon and evening and at times the press of visitors made progress around the exhibits extremely slow, a condition of which the demonstrators and salesmen in charge took full advantage.

JAMESON DISPLAY

Facing the main entrance is an exhibit of the products of the W. A. Jameson Coffee Company, where patrons were welcomed with cups of delicious tea and coffee. The display of locally-made goods has been arranged against a background of views of tea, plucking and processing. Featured products include tea, coffee, baking powder, lemonade crystals, Sherbet and flavoring extracts.

THE SPENCER EXHIBIT

David Spencer Ltd. occupy three of the large bays at the left of the entrance to the building. The first is devoted to demonstrating Fry's and Cadbury's cocoas and chocolates. Crutline and products of the Heinz Company. The extensive line of British Columbia products marketed under the Aymer brand share in the demonstrations and distributions of samples, which attracted to the display a large and interested crowd of questioners throughout the afternoon. The next bay of the Spencer exhibit features the famous Hedlund ready-cooked dinners prepared in Vancouver, of which five cases are distributed each day to holders of lucky numbers on tickets given away free by attendants in white coats.

Spencer's other prepared goods and Poliflor wax share with a well-patronized tea and coffee demonstration counter the third bay of the group.

The Eldredge electric sewing machine in the adjoining stand attracted much interest in the built-in motor. The remarkable efficiency with which the machine handled varying thicknesses of material, without affecting the quality of the stitch, was commented upon. The Eldredge sewing machine will be handled by the David Spencer Company Limited at the conclusion of the fair.

VICTOR OIL BURNER

The Victor Oil Burner, made in Victoria, is demonstrated at a well-located corner stand. The machine is newly invented and provides heat for residences at low cost, because of its extreme simplicity. A feature of the apparatus is the control of the flame, which may be adjusted to remain in constant operation at a predetermined consumption. This contrasts with the usual system of operating automatically at full load and then cutting off entirely until the fall in temperature restores the electrical contacts to operating position.

A. E. TAYLOR DISPLAY

A. E. Taylor and Company has a display of heavy washing machines and ironers operated by electricity. The operation of the equipment is shown to visitors by a staff of demonstrators, who were yesterday kept busy answering questions.

MALKIN'S DELICACIES

The W. H. Malkin Company demonstrates a wide selection of salad dressings and table delicacies, in addition to well-known teas and coffees. The stand was extremely popular with the younger people, patrons being given Whit-lo toys for children as well as having a trip to a free return trip by airplane to Vancouver.

The Royal Dairy operates a large stand, where its well-known ice cream bricks were supplied to patrons by a busy staff of attendants.

BEATTY WASHERS

Beatty Brothers has a well arranged display of well-known laundry equipment. Washing machines of various sizes were demonstrated and ironers of the latest type attracted much interest.

MOORE-WHITTINGTON

Beautiful woodwork is featured by the Moore-Whittington Lumber Company Limited. Fine mahogany doors and cabinetwork with well-arranged kitchen equipment form the background, while one of the walls of the stand showed the newest method of applying a cyprus oil varnish without showing the joints of sections. Insulux, a fluffy material claimed to minimize heat radiation in winter and to keep the houses cool in summer, was demonstrated and the method of application explained.

The Anti-Mist Chemical Company demonstrates this British Columbia-made product by means of a partially treated automobile windshield. The attendants also clean eyeglasses for patrons.

B. WILSON EXHIBIT

The B. Wilson Company Limited has one of the most novel exhibits in the building, this being a mass of ice in which is embedded the company's name. The great block weighs hundreds of pounds and being unprotected from the air, is renewed daily. Supplementing the exposed ice is an array of modern ice refrigerators, ranging from low-price practical food containers to elaborate safes built inside and out of porcelain-coated sheet metal.

HARDWOOD FLOORS

The Vancouver Island Hardwood Floor Company features its floor renovating service, having in operation an elaborate machine which makes old and discolored floors look like new work. There are also examples of fine oak and maple flooring and a demonstration of asbestos wall tile, recently introduced by the John-Manville Company and entirely made in Canada. The material is expected to replace European ceramic tiling in Canadian homes, being 40 per cent cheaper to install and of a beautiful appearance.

FAWCETT RANGES

The British Columbia Hardware and Paint Company Limited shows a large number of handsome Fawcett kitchen ranges, finished in tinted enamel. They also display enamelled house stoves and heaters and the well-known Fawcett warm air furnaces.

FINE H.B.C. DISPLAY

The Hudson's Bay Company has one of the most popular exhibits in the building, showing furs in a stand which faces the main entrance. The display includes a sealskin coat of the new logwood tint, valued at $550, which two years ago would have cost upwards of $800. Attendees declared the downward trend of furs has come to an end and that prices are now below anything known for many years or to be expected again. The display features a remarkable silver fox neck-piece which is said to be the finest specimen seen in Victoria for many years. Other interesting garments are a French-made sports coat of gray lapin trade name for rabbit, and a striking striped coat of chinchilla made in Victoria from local skins.

DRINKS POPULAR

The Old English Beverage Company has an extensive display of locally-made soft drinks and enjoyed generous patronage.

GAINERS SHOW MEAT

Gainers Limited show locally-made bacon, hams, sausage, lard and meat products at a large stand. A demonstrator shows the correct method of making doughnuts with lard and the comments of the patrons who sampled the products were highly commendatory. Many elderly ladies, who claimed great experience with lard as a cooking medium, being warm in praise of the dainties prepared by the white-attired cook.

FORCED AIR HEATING

Alcock, Downing and Wright Limited display the newest system of forced warm air heating, together with the Sunbeam warm air furnace. This stand also shows a motor-operated lawnmower.

SHOEMAKERS' DISPLAY

The Victoria and District Master Shoemakers' Association has an exhibit of the modern way shoes are repaired. The display includes an array of the many materials which are required to produce fine leathers and features various types of leather produced in the Empire. A number of colorful dancing shoes, selected by expert shoeworkers, were of much interest to ladies.

BEAUTIFUL TOILETRIES

W. R. Gibbons and Son introduce Victoria's very newest manufacture of toilet articles from skin milk or casein. Sheets and plates of casein, imported from England, are locally shaped and polished to give brilliance of coloring. Mr. Gibbons and his son have not yet been one year in Victoria and the industry is the first of its kind in Canada. They are British-trained brushmakers, and in addition to the highly decorative casein articles show a large number of commercial brushes.

THREE-CENT POWER

The British Columbia Electric Railway Company has devoted a large space to demonstrating the benefits of the new three-cent power rate, to be made available to all householders of Victoria after October 1. After a certain amount of power has been used at the existing scale of charges the cost will be lowered and will enable householders to use many more appliances. The display presents ranges, toasters, refrigerators, radio receivers, vacuum cleaners, washers and ironers. Nearby an extensive display of gas appliances of the latest type attracts attention.

HATT HARDWARE

The Hatt Hardware Company displays many handsome kitchen stoves finished in enamel and also shows furnaces and hot air heaters. The new Rotor furnaces is the source of much interest. A well-informed demonstrator tells visitors of the advantages of this new form of heating. The Rotor burns pea coal and is said to be more economical than other furnaces.

BLUE RIBBON TEA

Blue Ribbon tea and coffee are featured at a large stand facing the main entrance and patrons are offered an opportunity to win a handsome set of china dishes, which will be drawn for at the close of the fair.

FRIGIDAIRE AND DELCO

Thomas Plimley Limited show Frigidaire refrigerators for homes and for commercial installations. They also display the Century oil burner on exhibit for the first time in Victoria, the Delco electric lighting plant and a water pumping system suitable for rural residences.

STANDS IN GROUNDS

Near the exhibition office building the Kingham-Gillespie Coal Company Limited again occupies the handsome entrance they erected last year to house the Iron Fireman and display the merits of good coal for open fireplaces. The automatic manner with which the stoker feeds cheap fuel attracted many inquiries regarding the system of control.

Near the Industries Building are located two oil burner demonstrations which between them attract much patronage. The Ramsay Machine Works displays the Victoria-made "Victoria Ace," a compact equipment which makes use of an extremely small nozzle which automatically limits the oil consumption to a pre-determined amount.

The Oil Burner Sales Company demonstrates the well-known Fess oil burner in two types, one suitable to small homes and the other adapted to residences of the larger type. In addition this stand shows a remarkable equipment which enables furnace oil to replace coal or other fuels in ordinary kitchen ranges.

POLICE FORCE MEMBER WED

Claude A. Belcher and Miss Grace Jean MacDonald, R.N., United in Marriage

A pretty wedding took place last evening at 8.30 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Belcher, 1553 Pembroke Street, when Rev. Bruce Gray united in marriage Grace Jean, daughter of Mr. Charles MacDonald of New Beach, Toronto, and the late Mrs. MacDonald, and Mr. Claude A. Belcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Belcher, Pembroke Street, Victoria.

The bride, who was unattended, was given in marriage by Mr. Henry Law of Victoria and was smartly gowned in a model of beige nylon and lace. The bodice had long tight-fitting sleeves and a cape was arranged over the shoulders, forming a low V in the back. The skirt was full and touched the floor. She wore a hat of beige lace, turned off the face and trimmed at the back with a large flat bow of velvet ribbon to match. She carried a shower bouquet of rosebuds and pansies, the latter forming the flowers used in the "shower."

The groom was supported by Mr. George Randall. Following the marriage service, a reception was held, at which the bride and groom were assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. Belcher, mother of the groom, who was gowned in an ensemble of brown crepe de Chine, with hat to match.

A color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the floral decorations in the home and the table was most attractive, centred with a single tier wedding cake, adorned with roses and a cupid holding aloft a wedding ring. Pink and white streamers formed a canopy over the supper table.

Mr. and Mrs. Belcher left on the midnight boat for Vancouver and will visit in points south prior to returning to Victoria to make their home at 1058 Poul Bay Road. For traveling, the bride chose a frock of brown and tan striped wool mixture, with which she wore an elegant model hat to match in color and a muskrat coat.

Mrs. J. M. Bird Takes Six Firsts in Class For Women Over Seventy

The part the women are playing in the success of the Provincial Exhibition was called to the attention of the public in the opening day address, and a glance at the Women's Exhibits Building will justify the Premier's statement. In the fur, wool, handicraft and domestic science departments, the result of hard, conscientious work is shown. One of the most interesting sections in the building is that for women over seventy years of age, where Mrs. J. M. Bird won no less than six firsts and several seconds. Results follow:

YOUR BABY and MINE

Mrs. Bird will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

CHILD MUST LEARN TO PLAY ALONE FIRST THEN WITH OTHERS

Everyone admires the independent person, the person who can think and act for himself. Independence is the full flower of a character which begins to sprout in infancy. All the way through the lives of children, endeavoring to be independent, and all the way through their lives their parents are, in many cases, endeavoring to prevent them from being so.

How do parents prevent this independence which later they so much admire? I can't cover all the points, so I'll concentrate on just one. Parents constantly entertain the baby. The moment the child opens his eyes and lets out one tiny peep, the mother, the nurse, the grand-mother, or someone is right at hand to pick him up, to keep him from knowing one moment of waking solitude.

CO-OPERATION FROM FAMILY

When the baby is old enough to grasp and hold toys, his parents are not content to give him a toy, or various toys of all kinds and shapes, which he can hold in his hand and examine. They help him to examine them. They toss the ball about, making the baby's eyes shine with excitement. They shake the rattle vigorously. They shake the dolls which squeak, and in every way they take an intimate part in the baby's enjoyment of these toys which are designed for his personal satisfaction.

The net result is that when baby is old enough to play by himself—there is always a time when the mother begins to think he should—

Sanitary Risk

SAFETY should be your first concern in sanitary protection. Health safety. The kind of safety you are certain of in Kotex, the pad that is used in leading hospitals.

But how about those nameless substitutes, of whose makers you know nothing? What assurance have you of their sanitary safety? Who made them? Where? How? Are you sure you'd use them, if you knew their origin?

There's one certain way of avoiding risk. Ask for Kotex. Genuine Kotex. It's immaculately clean—made by wonderful, patented machines from start to finish, in surroundings of hospital cleanliness. Machine packed and hygienically sealed in dust-proof packages.

George Young Regains Lost Prestige By Victory in C.N.E. Swim

THE SPORTS MIRROR

George Young Comes Into His Own With Victory Yesterday

Great Showing Will Re-establish Him in Good Graces of Public

Dempsey Will Meet Big Test Against Jimmy Byrnes and Lomski

Unknowns Play Big Part in Success of Major Ball Clubs

AFTER being a dismal failure since he won the $10,000 Catalina Island swim in 1926, George Young, husky Toronto Marathon swimmer, found himself yesterday and captured the gruelling fifteen-mile Canadian National Exhibition swim in Lake Ontario. It was a great victory for Young, who has been the best of considerable criticism for his poor showings in previous C.N.E. swims. After winning the Catalina event Young went into a slump and in every swim he started up until yesterday was taken from the water. His showings were so miserable that a number of people even went so far as to suggest that he had won the Catalina event with "outside" assistance. Young has proven exceedingly unpopular even in his home town of Toronto, but no doubt his smashing victory yesterday will do considerable to re-establish him in the eyes of the sporting public, which is a fickle bunch anyway. Athletes soon learn they have to take the knocks along with the boosts. It is an old saying that an athlete is a hero one day and a bum the next.

Two bouts in the next ten days look like they might bring out the important fact of just how good Jack Dempsey is on his comeback attempt. On Friday evening at Eugene, Ore., Jack is to meet Jimmy Byrnes over four rounds and this Byrnes can really fight. He weighs around 205 pounds, is a southpaw with a hefty punch, has had plenty of big-time experience and is not a punch-drunk old-timer.

If Dempsey can take Byrnes like he took the others, he's really good. The other bout comes on Labor Day at Reno, against Leo Lomski, now a full-fledged heavyweight at 185. Leo is not the Lomski of a couple of years ago, but is nobody's set-up by a long way. If Jack takes him he has done something.

One feature that appears to have caught the eyes of the sports writers in the various cities in which Jack has appeared is his superb health. It shows in his clear eyes, his lean, tanned body, his alertness, one might almost say his vivacity. He says he feels infinitely better right now than when he fought Tunney at Chicago. Boxing appears to be the one big thing Jack needs. His timing and judgment of distance are far from perfect, but he fully believes the hardworking he is doing will immensely improve his boxing.

The other day an obscure pitcher on the payroll of Philip Ball, owner of the St. Louis Browns, stepped out and won for himself a job of prestige by stopping the sixteen-game winning string of Lefty Grove, ace of the Philadelphia Athletics. The young man was Richard Coffman, of whom little is known except that he is a right-handed pitcher for the Browns.

The very next day, an unpublished little chap on the roster of the A's stepped out to the start and won his fourteenth game of the season, against two lost. This person was Leo Roy Mahaffey, whose place in the public prints has been largely unnoticed because he toils in the shadow of the Big Three—Grove, Earnshaw and Walberg.

These two pitchers, along with such hot-carriers as Jim Mooney and Jim Chaplin of the New York Giants; Allyn West of the St. Louis Cardinals; Bob Osborn of the Pittsburgh Pirates, and others whose names on big league rosters seem to be there just to fill out the page, form baseball's Secret Society of Willing Workers. You never know they are there until they bob up with a sensational performance or a remarkable record that everybody had overlooked.

Coffman is a tall chap of twenty-five. During the season of 1929 he appeared in twenty-seven ball games, of which he won one and lost one, indicating that he wasn't always there when the game started or when it finished.

Bill Killefer has worked with the young man patiently, teaching him some of the tricks he observed during his years of catching the offerings of Grover Alexander. However, last year, out of thirty-eight games in which he appeared on behalf of the Browns, Coffman was able to win only eight while he lost eighteen.

Canadian Fighter In Tournament To Name World Champ

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 3.—Six aspirants to the world middleweight boxing championship were ready today for the opening round of the second of a series of preliminary elimination bouts, sponsored by the National Boxing Association, to determine a successor to the crown vacated by Mickey Walker.

The card will be staged to-night in the auditorium here. Each of the bouts are scheduled as ten rounds at 160 pounds maximum weight.

The card: Frankie Battaglia, Winnipeg, vs. Angel Olivette, Porto Rico. Henry Frippe, Newcastle, Pa., vs. Roy Williams, Chicago. Frankie O'Brien, Hartford, Conn., vs. Jack McVey, New York.

"Catalina Kid" Is Once Again Hero Of Toronto Public

Smashing Victory of Toronto Swimmer in Yesterday's Fifteen Mile Marathon Places Him on Pedestal He Occupied Following Catalina Island Victory in 1926; Sport Fans "Soured" on Him During Last Three Years; Warren Anderson, Sydney, N.S., Shows Rare Courage to Take Third Place

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 3.—By reason of his smashing victory in yesterday's 15-mile men's professional swimming championship at the Canadian National Exhibition, George Young, Toronto's "Catalina Kid," to-day finds himself once again the popular idol of his fellow citizens.

A HERO AGAIN

GEORGE YOUNG who regained his lost prestige by swimming to a great victory yesterday in the annual fifteen-mile Canadian National Exhibition swim in Lake Ontario. The Toronto public had "soured" on Young following his many dismal showings after winning the Catalina Island marathon in 1926.

ALBIE DAVIES TAKES COUNT

Victoria Fighter Knocked Out in Third Round By Sammy Santos at Seattle

Seattle, Sept. 3.—Idaho's highly touted Irish junior welterweight fighter, Mickey McCafferty, forgot to take his shillalah into the ring here yesterday evening, and he received a neat lesson from Don Fraser, Spokane Scotsman.

Fraser closed McCafferty's right eye in the second round, and continued his lambasting throughout the battle to win all six by a good margin. The Irishman had a vicious swing with both hands, but he was unable to land solidly on the clever Scotsman.

Jimmie Britt, Tacoma welterweight, hit a little harder than Joe Ruiz, Los Angeles, and won the decision in the six-round semi-final.

Teddy Fox, Portland lightweight, and Frankie Holland, Spokane, drew in six rounds.

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 3.—By reason of his smashing victory in yesterday's 15-mile men's professional swimming championship at the Canadian National Exhibition, George Young, Toronto's "Catalina Kid," to-day finds himself once again the popular idol of his fellow citizens.

A dismal failure in every contest since he won riches and fame by finishing first in the Catalina Island marathon of 1927 Young regained his lost prestige in the frigid waters of Lake Ontario by outspeeding and outlasting a large field of the world's best long distance performers to cross the finish line 8 hours 8 minutes and 26 3-5 seconds after plunging off the starting float at 11 o'clock in the morning. Young won the coveted title and $10,000 cash.

One hour, 17 minutes and 10 seconds behind Young came William Goll, good-natured New Yorker, who receives $2,500 for his day's work.

Third and last to finish was the "bluenose" high school boy, Warren Anderson of Sydney, N.S., who won the admiration of everyone by his rare display of courage. Darkness had descended on the course, the cool night air caused spectators to shiver but the Maritime hero ploughed steadily on to cross the finish line at 11:20 o'clock. Just 12 hours, 9 minutes and 36 seconds after he had started, to win $1,000.

The balance of the 180 starting competitors lost out in the battle against the numbing water. Toronto competitors, Alfred Sully and Ernest Vierkötter, were harshly dealt with by the marathon fates. The former was in third position when taken out while the popular "black shark" had less than a lap to go when he gave up the unequal struggle.

TRAGIC END Vierkötter's end was tragic. Coming up the stretch on the seventh lap he was under the impression he was finishing and when informed he had an other lap to go jokingly remarked "I could count up to eight." But Mrs. Vierkötter became alarmed when the boat progressed out into the pitch dark night beyond the shore lamps and pleaded with Vierkötter to give up. She became almost hysterical, fearing he would go down in the dark and be drowned. So Ernst finally decided to quit. At that he was weakening fast and might not have finished anyway.

Away back in 1926, Young, then a sixteen-year-old youth, heard of the Catalina swim. With a companion, Bill Hastings, the Toronto public had "soured" on Young following his many dismal showings after winning the Catalina Island marathon in 1926.

But that wasn't all, one thing after another cropped up. He entered the marathon here that year and was removed at the end of four miles. Shortly after Ernest Vierkötter, a—shortly after Ernest Vierkötter, the talk began afresh. Each time Young entered the marathon in succeeding years, he was removed around the five-mile mark and the talk persisted.

Finally, he handed himself over to Johnny Walker, one of the greatest swimming coaches Canada has ever known. Walker had coached the winner of the marathons, he took Young and Margaret Raviar, Philadelphia, this year. The two swam together constantly. Miss Raviar, in Young last week swam eleven miles in just over an hour and a half yesterday.

Young cheered her as she won the women's event last week. In turn she entered his boat this year and was one of his strongest supporters. Between his swimming like a machine, and long before the end of yesterday's event the crowd was solidly behind George. Not that he lacked support, the even prior to the swim. The word had gone around weeks ago that George was "on." But the public wanted to be shown, and they liked being shown yesterday.

BEAVERS WIN CLEARHUE CUP

Defeat Saanich Thistles With Rally in Eighth For Softball Honors

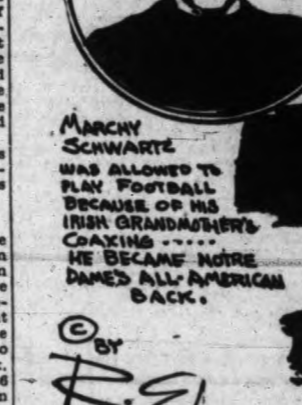

After holding a 2 to 1 lead over their youthful opponents in the seventh inning, Saanich Thistles went behind the batting rally of the Beavers to go down to defeat by an 11 to 7 count in the deciding game of the Clearhue Cup softball series at Central Park yesterday evening.

During their batting spree in the eighth the Beavers scored ten runs to take a commanding lead and win the fixture. Bill Levy hurled for the Beavers, while Morgan did the heavy work for the Saanich team.

TOMORROW! ABSOLUTELY THE LONGEST DRIVE!

Trainer Seeking Tenth of George Young's Winnings

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 2.—Shir Mendelsohn, local swimming trainer and coach, filed a writ at Osgoode Hall to-day claiming $1,000 of the $10,000 won by George Young, world professional swimming champion, in the Canadian marathon yesterday.

Mendelsohn claims Young had assigned 10 per cent of the prize money to him before the race. He also claims an injunction restraining Young from receiving or assigning or alienating the $1,000 until trial of his action. Young was trained by Mendelsohn for the marathon of 1930.

The writ was filed against Young, his mother, Mrs. Jane Young, and the Canadian National exhibition.

SPORTS

JIMMY THOMPSON

GABBY STREET, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, and one of the most famous players and managers in the pastime, is bringing upon himself a great deal of adverse criticism by his chain-store method of building ball teams. Gabby has only one answer—"Come and see my ball team." Before St. Louis started their chain-store system, the Cardinals were about as dangerous as the Boston Braves, or the Philadelphia Phillies. But since then they have been up in the thick of the fight every year. St. Louis now owns or controls five teams outside of the major league aggregation: Rochester in the International, Columbus in the American Association, Evansville in the Three-Rys League, Houston in the Texas League and Elmira in the N.Y.P. And their farm teams are by no means total losses, either, as witness the Red Wings in the International. Every player is on his toes all the time anxious to make a place in the "Big Time." Chain-store ball has its disadvantages, but it certainly has its compensations.

Favorites Have a Rough Passage At Willows Racetrack

Only Two Public Choices Manage to Get Down in Front as Fourth Day's Programme Is Run Off; Largest Crowd of Meet Attends; A.C.T. Stock Farm's Dolan, Wins the Exhibition Handicap; Blue Heaven Destroyed After Breaking Fetlock; Craigmyle Leads Jockeys.

Favorites had another tough day at the Willows track yesterday only two public choices getting under the wire out of the seven events. The track was still in a heavy condition and as a result no sensational times were elicited off. The largest crowd of the meeting was in attendance and betting was good. In the feature event of the afternoon, The Exhibition Handicap, the A.C.T. Stock Farm's Dolan, with Craigmyle up, romped home a winner, with Harry H. Bell second and Kingsman third.

At the conclusion of the race Mrs. Tolmie, wife of the Premier of the province, placed a floral horseshoe on the neck of the winner.

HORSE DESTROYED The meet was marred by the destruction of Blue Heaven following the running of the second race. Stumbling shortly after entering the stretch it was found the horse had broken his right fetlock, and it was necessary to destroy him. Jockey Schmitz was up on the horse. The fans got a big thrill in this race when A Treasure flashed across the finish line to pay $62.15 for a straight bet, the biggest price paid so far at the Willows meeting. Anderson was up on the winner, Ferrona Seth was second and Poles third.

The opening event, over six furlongs and thirty yards, saw Zelma Mac, with Mills up, come through to an easy victory. Taking the lead at the start the favorite was never pressed. Vance Britte finished second to pay $20.25 for a place ticket, while Evening Star placed third.

In the third event Coeur De Lion, always a consistent performer on local tracks, took the first money after a thrilling stretch drive with Fair Allen. The winner forged into the lead, going into the back stretch, and had enough left to beat off the final drive of Fair Allen and win by half a length. Wickwack closed strongly to take the show money. Shasta Bishop and Verna Loan were early contenders.

In the fourth, the Simon P. Tolmie Handicap, over five and one-half furlongs, Craigmyle rode Sun Flash to a fine victory. Gaining the rail position Sun Flash clung to his lead to run Simon to an submission. Christie Fleming, the favorite, wound up in third position.

After arriving here on the afternoon boat from Vancouver Major Taylor's Dolan was rushed out to the track to start in the Exhibition Handicap. Dolan went into the lead soon after leaving the gate and stayed there. Harry H. Bell made a game effort to get into the last quarter, but finished two lengths behind the winner. Kingsman finished third. The winner paid $7.45.

BREAKS HIS MAIDEN The sixth race was featured by the breaking of his maiden by Jockey Gerrard who piloted Salty home a winner. Architect, the public choice, finished second, with Will Ward third. Salty, after taking the lead from the start, was also out in front. He returned $36.60 for a $2 note bet.

Five lengths was Sporting Vein's margin of victory in the seventh over a mile and a quarter. Taken into the lead in the early stages the winner had to reverse to win as he placed in the early stages. Shasta Bishop and Verna Loan were early contenders.

The results follow: First race—The Exhibition Handicap, purse $300; for three-year-olds and older; six furlongs and thirty yards: Dolan (Mills), $4.25, $2.25, $3.05; Vance Britte (Schmitz), $20.25, $9.50; Evening Star (Fredericks), $4.40. Time, 1:22 1-5.

Time, 2:16.

Also ran: Harcum, Seth's Bacon, Aleto, Cullacan, Koko. PENALTIES DISASTROUS Wally Large, whose brother Bert forsook the Brampton net for pro competition, played perfectly in the eastern net, but scored outside the brilliance of Chubby Bruce Horne, guarding the foe meshes. Howard Murphy, Bill Lawrence and Emil Ludwickson, attacking Wellington Stalwart, had the Manitobans' best chances to score, but could not offset the disadvantage of penalties to their mates.

Brampton Will Meet New Westminster In Final Lacrosse Tilt

Canadian Champions Defeat Winnipeg 2 to 0 in Second Game of Dominion Semi-final and Qualify for Deciding Series With Salmonbellies on Pacific Coast; Brampton Took Two Game Series 7 to 3; Two Star Players of Eastern Club Injured Yesterday Evening; Will Play Exhibition at Calgary

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 3.—Bound for a title tussle with foes of old, Brampton Excelsiors are speeding into the west to-day, seeking a second successive Dominion lacrosse championship. In the Canadian finals, to which they gained entry by crushing Winnipeg Wellingtons in two games, they meet New Westminster Salmonbellies, whom they defeated in the 1930 final. The Ontario champions won the second game of the Canadian semi-final yesterday evening 2 to 0 after taking the first game Tuesday evening 5 to 3.

Still showing bruises and scars gathered in their 7-to-3 series victory over the Manitobans, the easterners expect to be in perfect form by the time they reach the Coast. Two brilliant players, Ollie Carey and Eddie Core, were injured when Brampton downed Winnipeg in the series wind-up yesterday evening, but they will both be playing an exhibition match Friday night at Calgary against an all-star team.

SHOW FINE FORM Young but well set-up, the Excelsiors showed championship form in the Winnipeg series, although five of their stars have been lost this season to professional ranks. Like crafty veterans, the Ontarians coasted along yesterday evening on the two-goal margin won in the first series match, held the Winnipeggers at bay, and landed in the only two goals of the night when the Wellingtons were penalty-weakened.

Coeur de Lion, Brampton, who knows the strength of the Salmonbellies, Canadian champions in 1927 and 1929, and Olympic representatives of the Dominion in 1928, is banking on a duplication of last year's final. With his proteges, he figures that the team beaten a year ago can be beaten again, and Excelsiors are out to do the job.

SUBSTITUTE SCORES Brampton's first score, half-way through the third quarter, came from the flashing stick of Bush Thompson. Lanky spare, a moment after he relieved Carey, who had been hurt. Two minutes later, Tony Stapleton scored the uncovered from his centre position, converted it into the second and last goal of the game.

Promptly after Neil returned from his fatal five-minute penalty, Wally McLaren and Russ Holt, Winnipeg attackers, were sent to the box, where they finished the quarter. Three more Wellingtons, including Capt. Murdy

Yogsters Knock Dopesters In U.S. Amateur Golf

Pickers Hide Back Of Trees and Traps As Stars Pass Out

Francis Ouimet, Boston Veteran, and Maurice McCarthy, New York, Lone Remaining Seeded Players, Following First Two Rounds of Match Play; Six Other Winners Are "Dark Horses"; Ross Somerville, Canadian Champion, Loses to Fay Coleman, Los Angeles, 4 and 3 in Second Round

Chicago, Sept. 3.—The forecasters hid behind the trees and bunkers of Beverly today, half expecting anything to happen as the skirmish for the U. S. Amateur Golf Championship bounded down the quarter final stretch.

Almost all their handpicked favorites were far out of the picture and the tussle for Bobby Jones' vacated crown resembled a wild scramble at a Saturday morning bargain counter.

Gone were all eight seeded players except Francis Ouimet, Boston, and Maurice McCarthy, New York, and keeping step with them were reisothers, who never before seriously threatened to win the title.

LEFT HOOK TO STOMACH PUTS CAMPBELL OUT

Sudden Ending of Bout Boomed By Fans; Remainder of Card Proves Good

Fight fans who wended their way to the Bay Street Armories to look over Garth Van Campen, Seattle's latest heavyweight, saw him in action for exactly sixty seconds. That's just the amount of time it took the big fellow to dispose of Billy Campbell, Vancouver. One minute after the opening gong had sounded referee Hector McDonald tolled the fatal ten over Campbell as he attempted to struggle to his feet after taking a flurry of blows to the head and mid-section.

Although the main event failed to meet with the approval of the fans, who booed the sudden and unexpected ending, the remainder of the card was first class. Every one of the four preliminaries was crammed full of action with three technical knockouts and a decision being submitted. The bouts were staged under the auspices of the Non-Fensioners' Association with Joe Bayley acting as promoter.

IS BIG FELLOW

Van Campen, proved to be a giant of a chap, well over six feet and built along the lines of a Carnera. Possessing a massive structure, he proved fairly fast in action, although noticeably flat-footed in moving around the ring. At the first bell Van Campen rushed from his corner for Campbell to cover up when he cut loose with short rights and lefts to the jaw and body. From the start it could be seen Campbell didn't stand a chance with the Sound City boy, although the sudden ending was much of a surprise. Campen landed a short left hook to the region of the solar plexus and Campbell dropped to the mat holding his stomach to be counted out. The Vancouver boy tried gamely to regain his feet by catching hold of the ropes, but it was too late. Campbell weighed 250 and Campen 220.

NEAL BEATS HAY

The six-round semi-windup between Frankie Neal, Victoria, and Wing Hay, Port Alberni, was fast from start to finish. Both boys were willing to mix things, and as a result the fans saw a rattling good bout. Hay took considerable punishment and throughout the entire bout seemed willing to take many blows to the head in an effort to get in close and work on Neal's chin. This same policy cost the Chinese boy the decision, as it allowed Neal to pile up points. The decision was boobyed by the fans, as many figures lay was at least entitled to a draw. There were no knockdowns.

Featured by eight knockdowns Danny Pastro, Victoria, scored a technical knockout over Red Pepper, Seattle. The fight was stopped in the fourth and last round after Pastro had put Pepper down four times. The first round started off with a whirlwind clip with Pastro adopting his usual wild swinging tactics.

Pepper kept coming in, and his straight left in the third, with Pastro taking considerable punishment and taking an eight count just before the bell. The fourth saw Pastro rally and Pepper went down twice for six and seventh counts, and then crashed to the mat again, and Referee McDonald raised Pastro's hand.

Billy Jennings, of T.E.C.S. Skeena, proved no match for Bert Samson, Seattle, and the bout was stopped by the referee in the third round after

KOLOFF AND BROOKS MEET

Famous Russian Strong Man To Oppose Local Grappler in Main Event Saturday

Rated as one of the strongest men in the wrestling game, Dan Koloff, famous Russian heavyweight, will make his first appearance here on Saturday evening, when he opposes "Rocky" Brooks, Victoria, in the eight ten-minute round event of the card to be presented at the Tillikum gymnasium. In the five-round semi-windup, Bill Demetral, Chicago, will take on Ernie Richardson, Vancouver. The first bout will get under way at 8:45 o'clock.

In Koloff, Brooks will meet one of the finest heavyweights in the game today. He has only been defeated by the best and has victories to his credit over a number of the leading grapplers. Brooks is in wonderful condition and is confident of being able to give the Russian a tough match and possibly beat him.

The five-round should also be a first-class event. Demetral is a top-notch wrestler, while Richardson has been holding his own with the best in recent matches.

St. Louis, Sept. 3.—Rudy Dusek, Omaha, tossed Pat O'Shocker, Salt Lake City, in thirty-three minutes and twenty-five seconds in the main event of a wrestling show here yesterday evening. Dusek weighed 216 pounds, O'Shocker 220.

San Jose, Calif., Sept. 3.—Dynamite Gus Sonnenberg butted Leo Papiano, Los Angeles, through the ring to win the main event in a wrestling show here yesterday evening in one fall after thirty-two minutes of grappling. Papiano had to be carried to the dressing-room. Sonnenberg weighed 210 and Papiano 200.

INTERMEDIATE OPEN FIVE PIN LEAGUE WILL BE FORMED

At the annual meeting of the Commercial Fivepin Bowling League, called for yesterday evening at the Olympic Alloys, there was much dissatisfaction expressed over the handicap system. After an informal discussion it was decided to change the present handicap system and to withdraw some of the teams to form an intermediate open fivepin league.

This decision left only a small representation for both leagues, so it was decided to postpone the meeting until next Tuesday evening at 8:30, when organization of the new league will take place, and the annual meeting of the commercial league will be completed.

Charlie Lewis Is Named President Of Football Club

Watching the Majors

Bill Terry is right back where he was a year ago, leading the National League batting race, but the Giant first baseman's present average is a far cry from that he boasted last September 3. Where he was going at a sensational .411 clip a year ago, Terry found a comparatively modest .348 sufficient to top all rivals to-day.

Al Simmons, leading the American League with a mark of .385, is only eight points below the average held by the leader a year ago, Lou Gehrig.

BRITISH NET PLAYERS WIN

Fred Perry's Victory Over Andre Merin Gives His Team International Series

Philadelphia, Sept. 3.—A youthful, dashing young Englishman, Frederick Perry, yesterday swept through another tennis encounter on the Germantown Cricket Club courts to win for his native land the international tennis series between the United States, England and France.

Continuing his play of Tuesday, when he defeated Elsworth Vines, of Pasadena, Cal., leader of the younger American players, Perry triumphed over Andre Merin, nineteen-year-old Frenchman, 6-1, 7-5, to secure the fourth and winning point.

Patsy Hughes, fellow-countryman, scored a victory over Marcel Bernard Tuesday, and then returned with Perry to annex two hard-fought matches from Jacques Brugnon and Christian Broussard, the French doubles team.

FRANCE IN SECOND

France ended yesterday's play with two points, while the United States has yet to enter the counter column. The first French point came yesterday when Bernard, seventeen-year-old Frenchman, scored a sensational victory over Johnny Doe, America's national champion, in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4.

Doeg and his doubles partner, George Loft, returned to the courts a short time later for a third match, only to fall victim of the French team of Brugnon and Broussard, again in straight sets, 9-7, 6-3.

Oakland, Calif., Sept. 3.—A right-handed sock on the chin ended the main event of a boxing exhibition here yesterday evening in the first round. "Speedy" Dedod, clever Filipino, did the delivery, and Abie Israel, Portland, kissed the canvas for the count of ten before the bell ending the first of the scheduled ten rounds was over.

Boston Braves Hit Bad Slump and Drop Into Sixth Position

After Promising Start Bill McKechnie's Club Falls Away Completely; Drop Another Double Header to New York Giants 9 to 2 and 3 to 1; Poor Batting Is Responsible; Chicago Loses Two Valuable Tilts to Lowly Cincinnati; Washington Wins Third Straight From Philadelphia A's

Despite the best efforts of Judge Emil Fuchs' pocketbook and the recognized managerial ability of Bill McKechnie, the Boston Braves at last appear to have hit the Skids. Seldom has a club made a more promising start than they did this spring, and seldom has one fallen apart more completely.

Losing another double header to the New York Giants yesterday, 9 to 2 and 3 to 1, the Braves for the first time this year fell into sixth place in the National League standing. The Pittsburgh Pirates, idle, passed them by a half game.

Contrary to Manager McKechnie's pre-season belief, his club has not proved "just as strong as its pitching staff." The chucks have done amazingly well, but the team's hits have fallen down woefully. Early Berper at present is the only member of the team hitting over .300. We Schumlerick, the expensive Coast rookie, is hitting only .283. With such hitting the Braves have made only twenty-one runs in losing ten of their last eleven games.

Yesterday they fell one-sided victims to the shoos of Carl Hubbell, Giant southpaw, and Roy Parmelee, a rookie making his first start this year for the McGraw men. Hubbell yielded eight hits in the first tilt, but Parmelee cut the Braves' quota down to four in the nightcap. Berper made two doubles in the first game and one in the second.

CUBS DROP FAIR
Gave steady pitching by St. John and Larry Benton, the lowly Cincinnati Reds came near knocking the Chicago Cubs out of third place with a double victory, 3 to 1 and 8 to 4. Johnson fanned six batters in the opener. His mates, led by Harvey Hendrick, knocked Root from the box in the sixth.

The Washington Senators supplied the day's high light in the American with their third straight win over the Athletics, 5 to 2. As a result the A's had a bare thirteen and a half-game lead to-day. Crowder, pitching his second victory over the champions within four days, had about until the ninth inning.

Noble relief pitching by Ivy Andrews, recently from Jersey City, enabled the New York Yankees to overcome a five-run lead and a half-game to the Boston Red Sox. Andrews allowed only two hits after the Sox chased Gordon Rhodes in the third. Babe Ruth spanked his thirty-eighth homer in the fourth. The Yankees run with no one on in the first. The Detroit Tigers made it two out of three with the St. Louis Browns by dividing their double-header, winning the first 3 to 4, and dropping the second, 7 to 3. Vic Sorrell allowed the Browns ten hits in the opener, but was tight in the pinch.

Double by "Red" Kress, St. Louis cleanup man, helped beat Elton Hoggset in the second.

Urban Faber's pitching and batting enabled the Chicago White Sox to finish the day one up on Cleveland's Indians. The veteran batted Mel Harder, 3 to 2, in the first, starting his team's scoring with his fourth hit of the season. Dardness halted the second fray with the score tied, 4 to 4, at the end of the sixth inning.

Boston, Sept. 3.—Roy Parmelee, starting his first game for the New York Giants, beat the Braves 3 to 1 in the second game of yesterday's double-header. The Giants also took the first, 9 to 2.

Balloon Ball To Remain in States

Chicago, Sept. 3.—The United States Golf Association has taken no action designed to alter the status of the new "balloon" ball and probably will not do so.

The executive committee of the U.S.A. adjourned its first session, in connection with the current amateur championship, without taking action on the ball. The general opinion is that the ball will be given at least one more year's trial.

To-day's Grain Markets

WINNIPEG

(By Logan & Bryan)
Winnipeg, Sept. 3.—Wheat: Wheat was again dull, featureless affair with only a small local trade passing. Prices were lower at the start and on the extreme dip, which took place during the first half of the session, were 1/4 to 1/2 under the close of last night, the October future being the weakest month. However, the market firmed up later and all the earlier loss was recovered and the market held steady around the previous close.

There was a little hedging pressure during the first hour, but later offerings were very limited and shorts covered in the cash market. There was a good demand and fair quantity of wheat was changing hands, the spreads on the top grades being 1/4 to 1/2 cent and unchanged on the others. While no export business could be confirmed part of the cash demand was coming from exporters as well as local mills, both Canadian and American. There is very little doing in the flour market, according to all reports, either domestic or in export channels.

Bradstreet's weekly North American exports were given at 6,808,000 bushels, which is some improvement over previous weeks. Black Sea shipments this week are 5,224,000 bushels, of which Russia shipped 4,512,000 bushels. Chicago wheat futures made new lows, while the season in all contract months while Winnipeg October and May established new lows. Chicago made a good recovery of more than 1 cent and had some effect on Winnipeg in the later trade. Winnipeg closed 1/4 to 1/2 lower.

Coarse grains: There was practically nothing doing in the coarse grains, all markets being extremely quiet. There was no export business and little or no demand from any quarter, while the offerings were light. Prices held fairly steady with a little lower tendency.

Oats closed 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher; barley, 1/4 lower to unchanged; and rye, 1/4 lower.

Flax: Slightly easier, both October and December slipping under the dollar mark. Very little going on.

Liverpool due 1/4 to 1/2 higher, on Winnipeg.

French Liner Here This Morning From France and California Ports With Special Party Aboard; Has Fine Accommodation

"I first passed by Victoria twenty-two years ago on a French cargo ship, but this is the first time I have ever been here," said Capt. William Vogel, master of the French motorliner Washington, which docked here this morning at 7.40 o'clock from France, by way of the Panama Canal, California ports and Portland. She proceeded to Vancouver shortly before noon and is expected at the mainland port at 6 o'clock this evening.

Capt. Vogel said he had met dense fog all the way up the Pacific Coast. The ship left Portland at 5 o'clock yesterday morning and as soon as she was out of the Columbia River ran into fog that lasted until the ship rounded Race Rocks this morning on her way into the William Head quarantine station. Capt. Vogel had been up all night and said he was too tired to leave the ship and take a look at Victoria, much as he wanted to do so.

SPECIAL PARTY
There are twenty-six passengers aboard the Washington this morning, all from San Francisco and Los Angeles. A special tour to the northwest under the auspices of the Atlas Steamship Agency of Hollywood, in conjunction with the French Line. The tour is under the personal supervision of Miss Therese Larrouy. Hooper, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Howard, Master J. Howard, Miss Bonita Jensen, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Lomasney, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh P. Mackie, Miss Gladys Mackie, Mr. and Mrs. I. Steinhardt, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. U.S. Shipping Board Approves Agreement Between Two Lines

Washington, Sept. 3.—Agreements between two Japanese shipping lines serving the west coast to eliminate duplication of routes were approved yesterday by the shipping board. The lines were the Nippon Yusen Kaisha and the Osaka Shosen Kaisha. Each will continue to operate its Orient-New York service, which later will be united and operated jointly under a separate agreement.

The agreements, to remain in effect until December 31, 1940, provided the N.Y.K. would discontinue its Orient-South American east coast service, and the O.S.K. would discontinue service between the Orient and Puget Sound. The Orient-South American route will be conducted solely by the O.S.K., and the Orient-Puget Sound service by the N.Y.K.

FIVE SEAFARING BROTHERS HAVE HAPPY REUNION

Capt. C. Gaidick, Chief Officer of H. F. Alexander, Tells of Seattle Gathering

Five seafaring brothers, whose ocean courses have crossed many times, joined hands for the first time in fifteen years in Seattle this week when their ships to the Sound port at the one time, according to Capt. Charles Gaidick, one of the brothers, who sailed from Victoria on Tuesday evening for California ports as chief officer of the liner H. F. Alexander. A sidelight of the re-union was the fact that it took place on the birthday of the "H. F." chief officer.

His proud mother, Mrs. Marie Gaidick, 312 N. 47th Street, Seattle, who was able to welcome all five of her sons at the one time.

The eldest is Capt. Joseph Gaidick of the American-Hawaiian Line's Panamanian, and the youngest, Capt. Harold, first officer of the States Line's Texas.

Capt. Fred Gaidick of the freighter Wilkeno, spent five dreary days in an open boat off the coast of France after a German submarine torpedoed the freighter Westover, on which he was lieutenant, junior grade, during the war.

Charles of the H. F. Alexander, and Captain Howard, chief officer of the Admiral Evans, in the Alaskan service of the Pacific Steamship Company, were also present. The brothers gathered at the re-union. They have met often as their ships called in their home port of Seattle.

When the wife here Tuesday evening in the H. F. Alexander, Capt. Charles Gaidick recalled that the re-union might have been held three years ago in San Francisco if duty had not intervened and compelled him to sail a day before his four brothers came through the Golden Gate.

He said, "All of us were born in Seattle, up on Phinney Ridge, and all of us went to school together at Lincoln High. Then we shipped out and never together. We've met, two at a time. We've stumbled onto each other as our ships have passed through the Panama Canal. We've met in the hall, other, say 'Good luck' and that was about all."

His father, the late Capt. Joseph Gaidick, was one of the Pacific's famous old mariners of the day when sailing ships linked Puget Sound with the far corners of the earth.

NEW YORK GIVES GREAT WELCOME TO YACHT CREW

Youths Who Manned Winning Yacht Dorade in Transatlantic Race, Arrive Home

New York, Sept. 3.—Six modest youths who sailed a 45-foot yawl the 2,900 miles across the Atlantic in seventeen days came home yesterday afternoon to bask in the sort of boisterous reception New York usually reserves for aviators, channel swimmers and visiting celebrities.

They were the crew of the little Dorade, which won the recent race from Newport, R.I., to Plymouth, England, in competition with larger boats manned by far older and more experienced sailors.

They came into the harbor on the liner Homeric at noon and were taken off at quarantine by the city tug Macomb.

From then on they experienced all the thrills that go with a typical New York "welcome home"—band music from a navy cutter, the congratulatory reception committee, the water display of a fireboat, the cheering of crowds at the Battery, a parade to the City Hall, a radio broadcast, interviews with scores of reporters and then a banquet at night.

But it all perplexed the six youths, who insisted they had done nothing much—that all the credit for their victory belonged to the wind that had sped them along their treacherous course.

Yachting experts, however, said the foresight shown by Olin J. Stevens II, the twenty-three-year-old captain-navigator, owner and designer of the Dorade, in picking a new vessel, a small, speedy powerboat, was what made the triumph possible.

The other nine entrants headed for the Gulf Stream in the hope of being pushed on their way by three-mile-an-hour drift.

Post and Gatty Are "Too Tired to Talk"
Portland, Ore., Sept. 2.—Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, who flew many weary hours in their record flight around the world, were "too tired to talk" after a 24-hour non-stop flight here from Los Angeles today.

The fliers set the famous monoplane Winnie Mae down at Portland airport at 5.41 p.m. Since their coming was unheralded only about fifty persons were at the field to greet them.

They said they would take off at 8 a.m. to-morrow for Spokane, where they are to be featured guests at a jubilee celebration.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am engaged to a man who is not willing that my boy of eight should live with us after we are married. I love my little son more than anything on earth and cannot bear the thought of parting from him. The main thing in life with my fiancé is money. He thinks a wife should do her housework and work out besides, regardless of health, and turn over the money she makes to him and that it is foolish for a woman to spend money on clothes and that one hat every two years is enough for any woman. What chance of happiness will there be for me if I marry this man?

MABEL.

Answer—None whatever, and you will deserve the misery that will certainly be your portion if you go along and marry a man who has so plainly shown you his character.

Some pity can be felt for an ignorant young girl who blunders into marriage with a man who has camouflaged his real nature. There are, for instance, men who are lavish in spending when they are courting a girl, but who make tightwad husbands who make their wives pinch pennies the balance of their lives to pay for the presents and the dinners and parties they gave them before marriage.

There are philanderers who pursue a girl so ardently that she never dreams that as soon as they are married he will start chasing some other petticoat. There are young men who talk about their temperaments and the great things they are going to do when they get into the right thing, until they persuade a girl that she is carrying a genius who is misunderstood and not appreciated, but who, they find out later on, are just plain lazy loafers whose wives have to take in boarders to support them.

Plenty of girls make unfortunate marriages just because they are deceived and do not know what kind of husbands they are getting, but you would have no such excuse in marrying this man who, at least, has been honest with you. He has shown you just what you would have to expect. He has thrown his cards on the table.

He is miserly. He is a slave driver. He is utterly without tenderness or consideration or sympathy or else he would not be willing to separate you from your child and expect you to do the work of a housewife and a business woman, and, least of all he would be mean and grasping enough to expect you to turn over your earnings to him.

What would you expect to get out of such a marriage? What happiness could you look for? How would it better your condition? It seems to me you would stand to lose everything and gain nothing.

At present you have, at least, the happiness of having your child with you. Can this man's cold affection repay you for being parted from your little son and having him in some institution or cheap boarding school?

At present you have, at least, what you make and can spend your own money as you please. Why do you want to turn that over to a grasping husband and have him dole out a few nickels and reproach you every time you buy a new pair of stockings? And don't mislead yourself into thinking that a man who would take away your pay envelope away from you would spend his on you. Why, he would begrudge you the very food that you ate and that you had helped earn and had cooked.

Furthermore, no woman in the world is in a more terrible plight than the one who puts an unkind and unsympathetic stepfather over her children and who is torn to pieces trying to stand between them. Many a widow who has married a second time has her heart break as she sees her second husband mistreat her children. Sometimes she has to listen to their cries as he beats them. Sometimes she has to see their natures warped as he cowers them and they cringe before his ceaseless criticisms and fault-finding. Often she is afraid even to show them the tenderness and love she feels for them for fear of rousing her husband's jealousy, and so the poor little things grow up with all their natural inclinations suppressed, all the joyousness of childhood crushed out of them, hapless little beings who are the victims of their mother's marriage.

A single woman has a right to take a chance on marriage if she wants to, but a widow should consider her children first in selecting a husband.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—Nature was not so kind to me, for I have neither a wonderful personality nor the looks of a sheik. Hence it is rather hard for me to find girls of pride and high ideals to go to shows and social affairs. They prefer more romantic and better-appearing fellows. Is there any special formula for cultivating personality? How can a young man be popular with the girls and not be used as a convenient means of having a good time and being sort of a meal ticket? I am tired of being taken for a sap.

DONALD.

Answer—It is not possible for a young man to avoid being made a convenience of to a certain extent by girls, any more than it is for girls to keep from going out with a lot of young men who bore them to tears, because it is only by being in the crowd and playing the game that you stand a chance to meet the one girl or boy whom you really can fall for. If you separate yourself you are bound to lose out. Feeding the gold-diggers and making oneself agreeable to the wearisome Willys is the price of admission to society.

You must have a bad inferiority complex if you think girls don't want to go out with you because you are not an understudy to Valentino. Men turn down a girl because she is not pretty, but girls have more sense. Provided a man is neat and well dressed they don't care a rap whether he has a pug nose or a Grecian profile, and they would far rather go out with an intelligent man with a keen line than a dumb sheik who made them work like coal heavers to keep the conversation going.

Of course, personality can be cultivated. Any man can make himself an interesting companion if he will read and improve his mind and will refrain from talking about himself and show an interest in other people. He can acquire good manners and a pleasing address, and he can learn how to do things by watching more sophisticated people. There is no excuse for any man of ordinary intelligence not to learn what forks and spoons to use and how to eat and how to conduct himself like a gentleman instead of a boor.

Indian Picture-Words

That the Indians of Mexico knew how to make picture-words before white men arrived, is widely known; but many persons suppose that other Indians were without any means of writing.

 〰 = River
 〰 = Mountains
 👂 = Hearing
 〰 = Speaking

Examples of Indian Picturing Writing

It is true that Indians of Canada and the United States did not have complete systems of picture-writing, but some of them did know how to express certain words by writing. Birch-bark was used as paper, and berry juice was used as ink.

Among Indian picture-words was a sketch of the rising sun, which meant "morning." The sun was provided with eyes and a mouth. A wavy line was used to mean "river" by some tribesmen. The word "hearing" was expressed by a picture of a head, with wavy lines extending from the side—as if sound were traveling into the ears.

"Speaking" was written by the picture of a face with a wavy line extending from the mouth.

For Greeting Scenes in Mine

Picture "The Sin Ship"

The latest type of waterfront "speakeasy" was reproduced in a faithful detail for dramatic scenes in Radio Pictures' "The Sin Ship" at the Columbia Theatre this week.

An entire sound stage was transformed into a "dive" that would accommodate 150 "customers." The place was equipped with bars, tables, gambling devices, police lookout stations and trap doors where patrons could disappear in case of a police raid.

A man familiar with such places was retained by the Radio Pictures' art department to supervise details.

Here a colorful free-for-all fight takes place between a cut-throat schooner crew and a number of beachcombers.

"The Sin Ship" was directed by Louis Wolheim, who also plays the leading male role. Opposite him is Mary Astor.

Underworld Setting

For Dramatic Love

Story at Playhouse

"The Big Fight" Based on

Belasco Stage Production;

Here For Week

A smashing underworld tale, with a tense love story of unparalleled dramatic interest, and a terrific climax in the most realistic prizefight ever staged for motion pictures, are the strong points in James Cruze's "The Big Fight," sensational photoplay based on the Belasco stage success, now showing at the Playhouse Theatre.

Rarely such an entertaining film, mixing broad humor and gripping suspense, been presented. Underworld settings, are involved in the intriguing love story of a pretty man, a celebrated prize fighter.

Their romance is fraught with danger, and, best of all, the picture is a triumph in all the greater when the foes of their happiness are finally overcome.

Lola Lane plays the role of Shirley, a manicurist whose love for the Tiger has to be sacrificed to her affection for her brother. When the latter is in danger, held as a pawn in an underworld intrigue, she is confronted with the dilemma of betraying the man she loves in order to rescue her brother from the clutches of an underworld gang.

How she manages to preserve both loves forms the chief interest in this tensely entertaining photoplay.

COLISEUM THEATRE

"The Wreck," which is the title of the stage show being presented at the Coliseum by Tom Parker and Company, is a sparkling comedy playlet and is refreshing with its comedy.

The comedy role played by Mr. Parker is a work of art, in which he shows a rare conception of his characterization. The role is that of the wayward husband, who stays away from home all night and, when he does come home in the morning, it is quite evident that he and old John Barleycorn had not been exactly strangers the night before. The role of the wife is portrayed by Miss Mae Tibbels, who was formerly with the Duffy Players in Seattle.

Ted Regan plays the part of the friend, who endeavors to help a nice alibi for the errand husband. He is excellent in his interpretation of the role and does much in adding to the success of the bill. Miss Frederic Moore as a pert French maid is delightful.

Direction of Walter Bates,

Coming Here Sept. 18

A group of young singers known as "Les Voyageurs" of Vancouver, selected and trained by Walter Bates, will be heard in a concert in Victoria, Friday, September 18. The choir consists of eight males and eight females, and will shortly go on tour south.

Walter Bates is known throughout eastern Canada in the highest musical circles. He studied conducting with Goldschlager, and was for some time associated with Dr. A. S. Vogt, the great Mendelssohn choir conductor of Toronto. Speaking of singing, Walter Bates says "singing is glorified speech. If people speak musically they would sing naturally and musically."

Some years ago he went to a little town in northern Saskatchewan where they had no good singers and no musical background, and after five weeks he trained a group of singers which took all the honors in their class at the musical festival.

Walter Bates was the organizer and conductor who built up Chalmers Church choir, Vancouver, until it became recognized as one of the finest choirs on the Pacific Coast.

Harry Langley will be in charge of the local arrangements.

Motor Dealers of City Exhibit Latest Models, Both Big and Small

Touring Car Is Missing From Displays; Several New Styles Shown

One of the popular buildings at the Provincial Exhibition yesterday was the structure which houses the automobile show. It was crowded with cars and until early midnight and many people went home with the hope that the way would be opened to them to buy one of the flashy models on display.

The motor car building is an attractive place. There is nothing crowded about it. From the high ceiling hang the flags of all the nations of the world. Each exhibit space is gay with late summer blooms, there are wicker chairs and settees and tables with colorful descriptive literature on them, while attentive officials explain the working details of their cars and help everyone in and out of the drivers' seats one when inspecting a car. The motor business seems to be picking up, according to the salesmen at the Exhibition and after this week's show it would not be surprising if many cars were sold in Victoria.

STUDEBAKER MODELS

First inside the main door is the Studebaker exhibit, handled by the Studebaker Motor Company. There are six fine Studebaker models in the display, five of them sedan models, ranging from a large and luxurious model to a smaller but trim and pretty model. In the centre of the display are the workings of a new free wheeling Studebaker car, on which the operation pointed out. Studebaker, as most everyone interested in cars knows, pioneered the free wheeling and it has proved an exceedingly popular feature. These sedan models are all beautifully finished with mirrors, side and ceiling lamps, cigarette lighters and ash trays and other useful accessories.

A NEW FORD

Next down the aisle is the Ford display looked after by officials of the National Motor Company. Ford dealers in Victoria. The Ford models, however, always seem to attract more attention than any other model in the show. There is one brand new model, never having been displayed in Victoria before. It is a convertible two-door sedan. The top folds down, the lower windows open wide up and the car is as good as a touring model. The model is finished in brown leather. Then there are Ford sedans, coupes, cabriolets, trucks, and a jaunty little Ford roadster with rumble top, which is the latest of the Ford exhibit is the chassis model, showing the engine of the modern Ford in working condition.

MOTOR HOUSE DISPLAY

The Chevrolet, handled by the Motor House, comes next. These are indeed smart models and attract much attention. A shiny green convertible cabriolet is especially featured. Trim, fleet and modish, this new model with a Fisher body, offers a full measure of quality, luxury and distinction and the prospect of many pleasant hours, bowling along country roads in crisp autumn air. The car can be opened right up in a jiffy. It seems this type, in all models and makes, is coming very much to the fore. More and more each year the motorcar purchaser is demanding a car that permits the driver and the passengers to enjoy the sunshine and fresh air.

THE BIGG MODELS

The Big Motor Company of Yates Street has one of the largest areas in the building. This company is displaying the Plymouth, the Dodge, the Nash and the Cadillac. The new Plymouth is especially noticeable and is given a feature place in the display. A new Plymouth roadster, a long, low and graceful model, painted a smart light grey and set off by bright red wire wheels, was much admired by the throngs who visited the Fair yesterday. Then there is the sturdy Dodge which is a power and strength with its new beauty of line. These attributes stand out more than ever on the new Dodge. The Nash and the Cadillac, especially the latter, are in the field of luxurious cars. The new Nash is a swift-looking car and a fine model. Finished in deep green is the one die, played. The Cadillac, a long deep blue one, has a place of honor and is one that is personally inspected by the crowds who have visited the building.

HUDSON AND ESSEX

Then there are the Hudson and Essex models, all free wheelers. The A. W. Carter Motor Company, dealer here, is of course looking after this display. There are two Hudson models and two Essex in this showing, the three of them among the finest cars in the entire building. One of the Essex models is a coupe and the other a sedan. The Hudson is a sedan, finished in the finest of upholstery.

A NEW PACKARD

Thomas Pimley Limited has the Chrysler, the De Soto and the Packard. There is only one Packard—a truly magnificent fine model, finished in the latest of colors and all looking as if they had much power and speed, and in this exhibit. Their lines are long and low and inside there is plenty of room which is always a feature of any car. Eve Brothers handle these cars in their spacious showrooms at the corner of Port and Quadra Streets.

GRAHAM MODELS

Eve Brothers are looking after the new Graham models, of which there are three at the Exhibition. Three exceedingly fine models, finished in the latest of colors and all looking as if they had much power and speed, and in this exhibit. Their lines are long and low and inside there is plenty of room which is always a feature of any car. Eve Brothers handle these cars in their spacious showrooms at the corner of Port and Quadra Streets.

BUICK AND PONTIAC

The Buick and the Pontiac are displayed by the E. A. Davis Motor Company. The Buick is also in the larger class field and is a beautiful car. Pitted up with every comfort and convenience for those who ride in it, it has more strength than ever before. Deep cushions, the finest finish and the best of material all round make the Buick a much desired car. The Pontiac is, of course, a smaller car, but a fine one. It has everything that the average car owner could desire.

MISS BARRYMORE HOPES TO REVIVE TRAVELING SHOWS

New York Managers Hope to Send Other Stars in Wake of "The School for Scandal"

What will probably be the high point of the theatre this year will occur September 12 at the Royal Victoria Theatre when Ethel Barrymore will be seen in Richard Brinsley Sheridan's immortal satirical comedy of the follies and foibles of human nature, "The School for Scandal."

Miss Barrymore is making this year one of the most extensive tours of her illustrious career, presenting this great comedy under the management of Lee Shubert of New York, in many towns that have not had a spoken drama in years. This is the "first lady of the theatre" acting as a pioneer in the broad and sweeping movement to rejuvenate the so-called "road" for traveling theatrical companies.

Her tremendous success everywhere has encouraged other stars and New York managers, and already plans are afoot to send out other touring attractions following the trails from coast to coast blazed by Miss Barrymore.

The selection of "The School for Scandal" as Miss Barrymore's current play has been hailed everywhere with enthusiasm, for it means that the whole country will have an opportunity of seeing one of the greatest comedies of the English language played by one of the foremost actresses and explained and interpreted by a company of distinguished artists.

Indeed, Sheridan's classic enjoys wide popularity, not only because common consent holds it as the most perfect acting comedy of the English language, but largely because its story is ageless and "undated," being just as timely and applicable to modes and manners of the weaknesses of human nature to-day, as it was when first presented in London a hundred and fifty years ago.

DOMINION THEATRE

"Political clothes" are among the odd bits of puzzling detail with which a movie director has to cope. Marie Dressler, in her first starring vehicle, "Politics," which is being shown at Dominion all week, put in hours with her director just to have her clothes psychologically political.

"I had to play a woman running for mayor—a feminine politician," she explains, "so the costumes had to carry out the idea. To have them too mannish would have simply echoed the comic supplement idea of a feminine politician and thus gotten a laugh. To have them too feminine would have made them look unlikely for a woman out battling for votes."
